OUR MISSION

ABOUT THE ARTISANS

The Don Bosco Printing Press, named after its Salesian founder, aims to contribute to the social and economic growth of young people, particularly in the Makuyu area of Kenya. Salesians are a Roman Catholic religious order founded in the 19th century with a concern for youth. The Don Bosco Press has created a professional center with two-year courses to provide technical and graphic design training. Youth participating in the program come from needy families, and receive a diploma at completion.
